

BUSINESS & TECHNOLOGY EXPO

WITI's Women in Technology Summit continues with the collocated Business & Technology Expo by putting it in the middle of the "town square" instead of a separate exhibit hall. This way exhibitors and attendees are always in the action and have opportunities to visit on their own schedules in a relaxed setting. 30 top companies; government, academic, and other organizations with a demonstrated interest in empowering women to succeed in technology will display products and services and build relationships with attendees. Exhibitors will have both HR executives and product managers (and top C-level management!) ready to speak with you.
